POPULISTS FOR TELLER.

An address, directed particularly to Populists, and generally to voters of every party, has been issued by Chairman Taubeneck and twenty-six of the leading Populists of the United States, favors the nomination of Senator Teller of Colorado for President of the United States. While the signers of the address disclaim any purpose or right to bind any party or person by the views which they set forth, they yield to an overpowering sense of duty in saying to members of the People's party, and to all other good citizens, who, apprehending the approach of a momentous crisis in our country's life, are willing to arrest it by acts of exalted patriotism.

They visited St. Louis as citizen members of the People's party. At the National Republican Convention they saw the "boss" in politics more securely enthroned, more servilely obeyed and more dictatorial as to candidates and policy, than has ever before been witnessed in the field of National politics. One man, the perfection of his type, representing the millionaires, the banks, the corporations, the trusts and every remorseless and plutocratic element in our country's life, has, through the power of money, dictated the nomination of McKinley and shaped the platform of his party. They witnessed a convention, pretending to represent free American constituencies, moving for three days as if a hand of terror was above it, whose might the members dare not question, and whose imperious orders they dare not disobey. This convention, slavishly responding to the will of the money power, has forced an issue which must be met. It is a challenge to the yeomen of the land. If it is declined, or if it shall succeed, the fetters of tyranny, more grinding than that of Ozar or Emperor, will be riveted upon the plain people of the country; fetters which must be indefinitely worn with the contemptible spirit of willing serfs, or be broken with the irresistible power of a mighty revolution.

That issue is formulated in the demand that the existing gold standard must be preserved. This means that silver shall be permanently degraded into mere money of change, and deprived of its legal tender quality except for some paltry amount. That the greenback and all other forms of Government paper shall be redeemed and destroyed; that the power of the National banks shall be quadrupled to contract the volume of money, to absorb the earnings of industry and to strangle all industrial and commercial life, while from time to time it terrorizes the voters into choice of its tools for all legislative, judicial and administrative positions. It will require that all our present National debt be refunded and made expressly payable in gold, and that all other forms of debt, private, corporate, State and municipal, be ultimately made payable in the same kind of money.

The money power has forced this issue now because those whom its policy would enslave are divided into hostile political factions, which it thinks cannot be united in time to resist the onset. It regards it as impossible that harmonious action can be secured between the different organizations that favor monetary reform and resistance to their insatiable greed. With Populists, Silver Democrats, independent bimetalists and Silver Republicans, supporting different nominees for President and the National Congress, it feels assured of victory, and it has determined to press the advantage which this apparently lamentable condition raises up before it.

In this, the most threatening crisis that has menaced the country since the Civil War, the signers of the address make the momentous suggestion. Measures must be gained or defeated through men. The chief problem in the crisis is to find a man upon whom patriots can unite; a man whose life is witness that, if intrusted with authority over National legislation and its enforcement, he will defy every allurements of wealth, and every menace of power, standing unflinchingly by the cause of the people, in the fierce struggle inseparably connected with the enactment of our proposed financial reforms. They see in the private and official life of Henry M. Teller a beacon, brightly burning, warning the people of the threatening rocks of dissension. He has now publicly abandoned the Republican party, with which he has been associated since Lincoln's time. For twenty years he has been a commanding figure as Cabinet officer and Senator of the United States. For twenty years he has stood as a bulwark against the tyrannical encroachments of the money power, and has never hesitated to declare that the National banks should be deprived of all authority to issue money and to control its volume. He is an unflinching advocate of the duty of the Government to maintain and exclusively exercise for the people the sovereign power of emitting all money, gold, silver and paper, and he holds that to issue bonds in times of peace is a stupendous wrong to the people and the country. When to this official record are united an unblemished private life, a character without blot or stain, a grateful, generous nature, a patriotism that knows neither State nor section, the members of the People's party feel they are but performing a duty to our country in calling attention to Mr. Teller's merits and availability as a candidate for President, as one upon whom all Populists may consistently unite while they preserve and strengthen their organization.

The address closes with a fervent appeal for union of all the forces which oppose the gold trust, as upon that depends the success of the monetary reform movement.

THE GOLD MEN ALARMED.

M. H. de Young of the San Francisco Chronicle is very much alarmed. He says the bolt from the Republican convention is the wedge that may be utilized to split Republican calculations wide open. He does not hesitate to say that should the Chicago convention make a platform and nominate a candidate in harmony with the position assumed by the seceding silver men and following closely on the heels of such action, and the Populists and Bimetallists, who are to meet in St. Louis, should fall into line, it would place the Republican ticket in great peril. He believes it would take California from McKinley, and he knows it would lose a number of heretofore reliable Western States from the Republican ticket. What the gold men fear is a union of the silver forces. They feel that the sentiment of the country is for free coinage, and unless they can keep the Populists, Democratic and Republican silver men and the out-and-out bimetalists divided, they cannot succeed. The efforts of Manager Hanna and all the trusts in the country will therefore be directed toward keeping the silver men of all parties apart. Money will be lavishly expended for that purpose, and it may succeed. There will doubtless be men at Chicago on July 7th and at St. Louis on July 22d susceptible to its influence, and who, while under the influence of gold, will endeavor to create dissensions in the silver ranks. These men should be branded as traitors and treated as such by all whose object is to rescue the country from the clutches of the gold trust.

Dunham, the Murderer.

HELENA, Montana, June 22.—Sheriff's Gilliam and Jurgens are after a man thought to be James Dunham, the murderer of six people near San Jose, California. A man answering his description in every detail was seen Saturday on Huntley & Clark's ranch near Helena. He was very nervous and acted as if pursued. He asked about towns having no telegraph stations. When he left he took a road avoiding such places. Every effort possible is being made to intercept the man, who is enroute east.

Altgeld the Only Candidate.

PEORIA, Ill., June 22.—No slate has been made for the Democratic State ticket to-morrow. No candidate for Governor is mentioned except Altgeld. Some politicians are working for the endorsement of Boies and other for Bland for President. It is believed, however, that the delegates to the Chicago National Convention will be uninstructed.

Court-House Burned

HONOLULU, Kaa, June 22.—On Sunday morning the court-house was burned to the ground and all the records destroyed. The safes had been both opened and the records piled on the floor in such a manner that they would be destroyed. There was $800 in the Treasurers' safe, which is gone. It will cost Sheridan county about $20,000 to repair the loss.

Cuban Patriots Shot.

HAVANA, June 22.—Miguel Alonzo Cabrera and Andreas Hernandez Rodriguez were shot to-day outside of Cabanas fortress.

Deaths From Heat.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Two deaths from heat are reported to the police up to 2 P. M. Both victims were women.

THE GAME BUTCHERS' WORK.

Wanton Slaughter by Hunters in the Jackson Hole Country.

The American Field jumps upon the foreigners who come to the United States, seek out those localities where most of the big game is to be found, and then lay themselves down to the work of slaughtering it with rifles. A favorite resort of these game butchers is the Teton basin. Here are found elk, deer and antelope, which are being killed off rapidly. The Teton basin, Jackson's Hole, is much lower than the National Yellowstone park, and much of the big game migrates south to it, as a warmer climate is to be found in the valley. It is here that the hunters from abroad congregate, and in spite of the Wyoming state laws kill game wantonly. If these men would kill a couple of heads of each kind, taking care of the meat, and following up wounded game, little or no objection would be made.

These hunters, some of whom are Americans, pass through the National park on their way home with wagon loads of skins and horns. The law in relation to transporting game reads that "possession within the park of the dead bodies or any part thereof of any wild bird or animal shall be prima facie evidence that the person or persons having the same are guilty of violating this act." With this act behind him the superintendent could squelch the wholesale slaughterers of game in the region of the Yellowstone park, according to The American Field. Captain Anderson, the superintendent, is urged to make an effort to enforce the law. What would be better yet would be the annexation of the Jackson's Hole country to the Yellowstone park.

"La Typewritress."

It is in commerce that L'Angloisisme naturally wins its greatest victories. In his Montreal office M. Jean Baptiste employs a secretary—no partition, lier, like his Parisian cousin—and, to make matters worse, this official must nowadays be a typewriter (or typewritress, as the case may be) who increases the demoralization of his native tongue with his "lettres typewrites." Of course, the French-Canadian merchant has to count his money in dollars and cents like his neighbors, and cent or centime long ago displaced son. The obvious Anglicism chelem has gone out of fashion with the English shilling, and is only used (to represent 20 cents) by the old market women and their contemporaries; and plastic is not yet translated into "dollar," but escombe has already become "discount," and difference has become "balance," regardless of the fact that balance, like banne, is a French word with quite a different meaning.—Contemporary Review.

Ruins.

Ruins in some countries indicate prosperity. In others decay. In Egypt, Greece and Italy they record the decline and fall of great empires. In England, Scotland and Wales they mark abolition of feudal tyranny, the establishment of personal freedom, and the consolidation of a nation's strength.—R. Anderson.

Metaphor.

"This," we hear, "is a soft bank of the snow." "This is what might be called a soft bank of the snow."—The National Enquirer.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

TAHOE NOTES.
The New Steamer to be Launched Tomorrow—Prospects Good for a Lively Season.
The greatest event in the history of Lake Tahoe will transpire with the launching of the new twin screw steamer "Tahoe" tomorrow Wednesday, June 24th. It will not be alone a notable occurrence for Nevada because it is the first launching ceremony in the State, but for California and the Pacific coast at large as the "Tahoe" will be a boat of such high speed as to rival the greyhounds that ply the oceans. All the prominent people of Nevada and California will be present and "Baby" Bliss, aged 3 years, will christen the boat with a bottle of champagne. She will be launched not on a barge, but on a submarine railroad constructed of massive timbers jointed with iron 560 feet long and on which she will glide into the water to be the fastest of her size in the world.
The "Tahoe" is a test boat and neither money nor time have been spared in making her the best of her kind, and every modern improvement within the gift of man has been placed at the disposal of those who travel on the lake. With the completion of this boat the Union Iron Works will score another victory equal to that of the ocean battleship "Oregon."
At all points of the lake improvements have been made, particularly at this place. A new hotel accommodating 150 people, also a new water works have been constructed and the genial Murphy Bros. are still the proprietors. Fishing is good and the air is bracing and delicious. No bad weather since the 1st of June.
The swift little steamer "Meteor" will be used as an excursion boat after July 1st, on which day the new boat will begin her daily trips. On July 4th dances and excursions will be in abundance and over 500 San Francisco people have already written for seats on the new boat.
The lake is four inches higher this year than in any year since 1868. This fact was ascertained by Captain John McKinney, who came to the lake in 1850 and who has lived here ever since, making a particular study of the lake. He was the person who sounded the deepest place on a line half way between Tahoe City and Glenbrook in 1855. This depth was 1,645 feet.
Incline and Hot Springs are no more stations on the lake. The hoisting works at the former place was removed to Truckee, and the hotel at the latter place is a thing of the past.
Visitors are arriving daily and notwithstanding the backwardness of the season, a goodly crowd is here. Every person who rides on the "Meteor" or "Tahoe" will be provided with a pass over the little railroads at Bijon and Glenbrook, both running back into timber lands and mountain surroundings of exquisite beauty and being romantic in the extreme.
J. D. O'BRIEN.
McKinney's, Lake Tahoe, June 22d.

Justice Court.
The case of the State vs. E. D. Kelley was called in Judge Linn's court yesterday morning. Owing to Mr. Kelley being on the Board of Examiners for the Annapolis cadetship his case was continued and that of Mr. Beck taken up. The day was consumed in taking the testimony of District Attorney Norcross, which was on about the same line as that he gave at the examination on Saturday, as far as the general testimony was concerned. In his answer to questions regarding the record of the action of the Commissioners on the 20th of May, 1895, concerning the Anderson case, Mr. Norcross testified that the record was partly true and partly false. He admitted that he, as District Attorney, was the legal advisor of the board and that it was his duty to prevent any illegal or irregular act on the part of the board if it was possible for him so to do. The responsibility of the falsity of the record in question, in his opinion, could partly be charged to the clerk and partly to the board.
The consideration of the amendment written by Mr. Norcross to the minutes of the board occupied some time, there being a question as to the meaning of the word "costs" in the amendment and the word "expenses" in Mr. Norcross' testimony regarding the alleged agreement made with Mr. Anderson. Mr. Norcross claiming that there was no particular difference in the meaning of the words in this case.
Court was adjourned at 5 o'clock until 7, when Mr. Anderson was examined, it being agreed that his evidence could be taken both in Mr. Kelley's and Mr. Beck's cases at the same time. Mr. Beck conducted his own case and Messrs. Julien and Webster appeared on behalf of Mr. Kelley. Messrs. Currier and Summerfield appeared on the part of the State.
Only Three Candidates.
One would have thought from the talk of the small politicians about town for the last month or two that at least fifty of our young men would compete for the Annapolis cadetship and that Nevada boys stood no chance whatever of getting the position. Now only three young men are candidates for the place and they are all Nevadans. They are bright boys and the examiners only regret that there are not vacancies for all of them.
Isn't the Date Wrong?
A handsome picture, nicely framed, hangs on the wall in the High School room representing Napoleon at the head of his army, and underneath it the legend, "Retreat from Moscow, 1814," in bold letters. History tells us that Napoleon left Moscow in October, 1812. Which is right, the date on the picture or the historians?

Woman Suffrage and "the Kingdom."
(Rev. Caroline J. Bartlett.)
A person with a "lo! here, lo! there" specific for all the wrongs of humanity is a short sighted and tiresome man to meet. Even the right of woman to the exercise of suffrage could be pushed with millennial arguments that would weaken its legitimate claims.
No sensible advocate of woman suffrage supposes that the ballot in her hands would right all the wrongs of human society. What this ballot will do will depend on what woman is; and every woman suffragist knows and gladly knows that the best argument for women's enfranchisement is the ever more apparent dignity, intelligence and moral weight of woman herself. It is perfectly true that abstract justice would give to a woman, good or bad, the same right of self-government that it gives to a woman good or bad; but this argument has not warm blood in it; it cannot appeal to us as does that other conviction that in womanhood there is a vast treasure of moral force which is grievously needed in our attempts at popular government, but which moral force is denied expression in the laws which govern men and women alike. Because of what woman is and is becoming, the world cannot afford to deny itself the great reinforcement she waits to give whatsoever things are true and just and of good report.
"She will make mistakes?" Let her. Is this, too, a privilege sacred to man? But, perhaps, she will not make so many or so great mistakes. Those who have toiled longest and most bravely for this right of woman are coming at last to be known as womanly women, as friends of woman's highest and best development on all sides of her life. They say to the woman in medicine, in ministry, in the law or other profession or trade: "You are pleading woman's cause by every day of faithful, successful work." They say to women, who in associated ways, are fostering their own intellectual life or giving life more abundantly to the ignorant, the hungry or the vicious: "God prosper you. By so much as you help here, you will help elsewhere by and by." They say to the woman in the kitchen and the nursery: "By so much as you are a faithful housewife and a wise and loving mother, you are fitting yourself for the exercise of those privileges and duties that shall ere long be yours."
Those who to-day make the greatest claims for woman are those who know that woman can fulfill these claims only through worth of womanhood. There is no magic by which she can bring the kingdom of God, except the kingdom of God be in her.
A Class Reunion.
Miss Della Levy gave her classmates of the Eighth Grade, a pleasant party at her home on Saturday evening. The decorations for the occasion were profuse and very beautiful. Music, games and general conversation occupied the evening until a late hour, when Miss Levy invited her guests to partake of a sumptuous supper, and it is needless to say that all did it ample justice. After supper the remainder of the evening was whiled away until the hour of midnight, which came all too soon and the guests bid their hostess good night, all voting her a royal entertainer.
Prizes were awarded in the games, and Miss Mabel Richardson, Miss Marie Barrett and Egbert Stewart were the successful competitors.
Base Ball.
An exciting base ball game took place on Sunday afternoon between a Truckee and a Reno nine at the grounds east of town. Up to the fifth inning the score stood 3 and 3, but after that the Reno's began to pull out and won the game in 17 runs to the Truckee nine 4. Both clubs played well and the defeated club would have given the Reno boys a close shave had it not been that they became somewhat discouraged towards the last of the game. The score stood as follows by innings:
Reno — 0 3 0 0 1 5 3 5—17
Truckee—0 0 3 0 0 1 0 0—4
Base hits—Reno's, 12; Truckee, 7.
A large number of visitors were here from Truckee and Wadsworth.

Examination of Applicants.
The examination of applicants for the appointment to Annapolis was proceeded with yesterday morning, at the High School building, and continued all day. The full board was present and the three applicants, Messrs. Seagrave, Bulmer and Lawrence, presented themselves. The examination is conducted by written questions and answers.
It will probably take the whole of today to complete the present examination, and the successful candidate will then go to Annapolis to be examined for admission. This method is taken in order that the successful applicant may go to Annapolis with some assurance of being admitted.

Your Boy Won't Live a Mouth
So Mr. Gilman Brown, of 34 Mill St., South Gardner, Mass., was told by the doctors. His son had Lung trouble, following Typhoid Malaria, and spent three hundred and seventy-five dollars with doctors, who finally gave him up, saying, "Your boy won't live a mouth." He tried Dr. King's New Discovery and a few bottles restored him to health and enabled him to go to work a perfectly well man. He says he owes his present good health to the use of Dr. King's New Discovery, and knows it to be the best in the world for Lung trouble. Trial Bottles Free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Byron's "Don Juan." Byron began the poem in Venice, the first canto being written toward the end of 1818, and the next three in the succeeding year. Then, at the solicitation of his friends, and especially of the Countess Guiccioli, whose influence over him then was paramount, he laid aside for a time the story of "that horrisonous don," and in September, 1820, wrote to Murray about it in this fashion: "I do not feel inclined to care for the 'Don Juan.' What do you say to a very pretty Italian lady said to me the other day? She had read it in the French, and paid me some compliments with due drawbacks upon it. I said that what she said was true, but that I suspected it would live longer than I." "Child Harold," said she, "I would rather have the fame of 'Child Harold' than the immortality of 'Don Juan.'" Later, however, he took up the manuscript again, "having learned," as he told Murray, "a person from my distress to continue it—provided always it was to be more decorous and sentimental than the commencement. How far these conditions have been fulfilled," he went on, "may be seen perhaps, by and by, but the commencement was only taken off upon these speculations."

Certainly it was seen, but whether the conditions remonstrated again is not known. Meanwhile the poem proceeded and its leisurely course, de omnibus re-bus et quibusdam aliis, as Campbell apply described it, showing on every page how true was the poet's own criticism.
The fact is that I have nothing planned, unless it were to be a momentary hurry.
A novel would be in my vocabulary.
—Macmillan's Magazine

"And Robin Gray."
A ballad that won instant fame against the expectation and even the wish of its author was "And Robin Gray," written by Lady Anne Lindsay about the end of the last century, meloody for her own satisfaction to replace the coarse verses of an old melody that pleased her. She sang charmingly, and the new ballad soon came into favor.
Great was the curiosity aroused as to the author of this pathetic song in whose simple verses all the elements of a heartrending tragedy are contained, but Lady Anne, modest and retiring by nature, preserved silence for many years, smiling no doubt at the controversy that raged so loudly. In the course of it her ballad was attributed by some others to David Rizzio, declared by others to be a genuine sixteenth century production and finally made the subject of a 20 guinea prize to be bestowed on anybody acute enough to bring to light the veritable author. —Cornhill Magazine

—Cleveland Plain Dealer

Wasted Time.
Watch any ordinary coming together of people and see how many minutes it will take before somebody frets. That is, makes a noise or has complaining statement of something or other, which most probably every one in the room knew before, and which probably nobody can help. Why say anything about it? It is cold, it is hot, it is wet, it is dry, somebody has broken an appointment or ill-cooked a meal, stupidity or bad faith somewhere has resulted in discomfort—there are plenty of things to fret about.
If we are weak enough to heed trifles, it is simply astonishing how much annoyance may be found in the course of every day's living, even at the simplest, if one only keeps a sharp lookout on that side of things. Even Holy Writ says we are prone to trouble as sparks fly upward. But even to the sparks flying upward, in the blackest of smoke, there is a line sky above, and the less time that wastes on the road the sooner they will reach it. Fretting is all time wasted on the road. —Pittsburg Dispatch

Cosmopolitan New York.
A curious characteristic of New York is the extraordinary mixture of languages that has come about within the last few years. Few people living on Fifth avenue or its short side street tributaries realize that there are links of this city where English is either not spoken at all or in a dialect where there is a mixture of tongues as confusing as ever made trouble on the tower of Babel.

A Russian emigrant who settled on the east side studied German six years before she discovered it was not the language of the country. She was not a stupid woman, but her tenacity and her street were German and her would did not reach beyond. —New York Journal

Take Care of the Eyes.
Do not do anything which causes a feeling of weariness at the back of the and unspeakable glory of the eye.

Wanted to See It.
The Washington Post prints a story told by Congressman Hitt. It happened when his father was sheriff of an Illinois county. There had been a murder, and in due course of time the guilty man was to adorn the waiting scaffold.
Great pressure had been brought to bear to induce the governor to commute the man's sentence. That official had made up his mind to exercise executive clemency, but foreseeing a splendid opportunity to address a large concourse of his constituents in the interest of his re-election, he concluded to go to the scene of the hanging, make a speech while the preparations were going on, and at the last moment stop the execution.

An enormous crowd of spectators was gathered on the fatal day, and while the poor wretch was being brought ready for the drop the governor mounted a platform and began his harangue. Someone, not knowing what was in the governor's mind, began to circulate a petition in the crowd, praying that the criminal be reprieved. Many signed it, and in passing it from hand to hand it came to a gawky country beau who had been married that day and had brought his wife to the hanging to see the fun.
He pondered deeply over the question whether to sign it or not, when the governor decided his course by declaring that he would not sign it. He then said: "I am a Christian, and I believe in the resurrection of the dead."

NOTICE FOR PUBLICATION.

UNITED STATES LAND OFFICE,
SUNSVILLE, CAL., MAY 25, 1896.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT in compliance with the provisions of the act of Congress of June 8, 1896, entitled "An act for the sale of timber lands in the States of California, Oregon, Texas, and Washington Territory," as extended to the Public Land States by act of August 4, 1896, Elie LeChapelle, of Verdi, County of Washoe State of Nevada, has this day filed in this office his sworn statement in support of his claim to the NW 1/4 of Section No. 34 in Township No. 21 North, Range No. 11 E. M.
